American army. There is hardly the smallest hamlet at home but will be able to hall some native son as a hero who fell for his country or who came through unsenthed.

Along the roads are the same evidences of grim determination. Solid columns are advancing to take their places in the maelstrom of death, the sight of the wounded returning in ambulances or trucks or hobbling slowly along the roadside with others jaded and unshorn back for a few hours of rest and food seems only to stiffen the backbones of the advancing soldiers.

Spanish influenza, which appeared in Spain in May, has all the appearance of grip or la grippe, which has swept over the world in numerous epidemics as far back as history runs. Hippoinfluenza has a very low percentage of attracting the blood to the surface, and fatalities—not over one death out of thus aids in relieving the congestion every 400 cases, according to the N. C. Board of Health. The chief danger lies in complications arising, attacking principally patients in a run-down condition—those who don't go to bed soon enough, or those who get up too early THE SYMPTOMS.

Grieve of the second o

dition—those who don't go to bed soon enough, or those who get up too early THE SYMPTOMS.

Grippe, or influenze, as it is now called, usually begins with a chill, followed by aching feverishness and sometimes nausea and dizziness, and a general feeling of weakness and depression. The temperature is from 100 to 104, and the fever usually lasts from three to five days. The germs attack the mucous membrane, or lining of the air passages — nose, throat and bronchial tubes—there is usually a hard cough, especially bad at night; often. the mucous membrane, or lining of the air passages — nose, throat and bronchial tubes — there is usually a hard cough, especially bad at night; oftentimes a sore throat or tonsilitis, and cough, especially bad at night; often-times a sore throat or tonsilitis, and Trequently all the appearances of a severe head cold.

THE TREATMENT. Go to bed at the first symptoms, not only for your own sake but to avoid spreading the disease to others—take arising. spreading the disease to others—take a purgative, eat plenty of nourishing food, remain perfectly quiet and don't worry. Quinine, aspirin or Dover's Powder, etc. may be administered by the physician's directions to relieve the aching. But there is no cure or specific for influenza—the disease must run its course-Nature herself will throw off the attack if only you keep up your strength. The chief danger lies in the complications which may arise. In-fluenza so weakens the bodily resist-ance that there is danger of pheumonia or bronchitis developing and some-times inflammation of the middle ear, or heart affections. For these reasons, it is very important that the rationt remain in bed until his strength re-State of Tennessee-Chancery Court of turns-stay in bed at least two days or more after the fever has left you, or if you are over 50 or not strong, stay in bed four days or nore, according to the slightest harmful effects. EXTERNAL APPLICATIONS.

In order to stimulate the lining of the air passages to throw off the grippe germs, to aid in loosening the phiegm and keeping the air passages open, thus making the breathing easier, Vick's VapoRub will be found effective. Hot, wet towels should be applied over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder baides to open the pores. Then VapoRub should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red, spread on thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. Foe Has Tactical Advantage.

In this desperate fighting the Americans have shown the same mettle that they showed in the Bols de Belleau in June. This struggle is similar to that, except that then it was in front of a single division, while this extends along the front of an entire army. In maneuvering their artillery the Germans have an immense tactleal advantage over the advancing Americans. The Germans not only are operating in territory which has been in their possession for four years, but they have solid highways and established rall-roads as compared with the rebuilt roads and hastily laid rails in the terrain newly occupied by the Americans. The Germans also are familiar with every angle of the ground.
